A WATCHTOWER provides a vantage point from which the watchman can observe and warn of approaching danger. This magazine, published by Jehovah's Witnesses since 1879, serves a similar purpose. It keeps watch on world events in these critical times and calls attention to God's warning of his vengeance soon to be executed on those ruining the earth. It comforts all peoples with the hope that God's kingdom by Jesus Christ is about to bring in a global paradise of peace. It encourages all to exercise faith in the ransoming power of Jesus' shed blood, and points to the joyous prospect of everlasting life on earth under the sovereignty of the true God, Jehovah. "The Watchtower Announcing Jehovah's Kingdom" is nonpolitical, and adheres to the Bible as authority.

Can This Book Help You To Succeed?

NO ONE on earth can be sure how many books have been produced throughout human history. Indeed, a wise man once said: "To the making of many books there is no end, and much devotion to them is wearisome to the flesh." (Eccl. 12:12) How true!

Yet there is one book that is unlike all others. In common renditions, it has 66 individual books. Its chapters number 1,189. And, in many translations, it contains 31,102 verses.

If you were to read and meditate on just one of these verses a day, it would take you over 85 years to complete this book. That exceeds normal life expectancy today. In fact, the very book we have in mind says of humans: "In themselves the days of our years are seventy years; and if because of special mightiness they are eighty years, yet their insistence is on trouble and hurtful things; for it must quickly pass by, and away we fly."—Ps. 90:10.

This book is the Bible. And proper study of it would require more than a normal human lifetime.

HELD IN HIGH ESTEEM

Abraham Lincoln, the 16th president of the United States, once said: "I believe the Bible is the best gift God has ever given to man." Truly, the Bible is held in high esteem by millions. For example, author Henry van Dyke stated:

"Born in the East and clothed in Oriental form and imagery, the Bible walks the ways of all the world with familiar feet and enters land after land to find its own everywhere. It has learned to speak in hundreds of languages to the heart of man. Children listen to its stories with wonder and delight, and wise men ponder them as parables of life. The wicked and the proud tremble at its warnings, but to the wounded and penitent it has a mother's voice. It has woven itself into our dearest dreams; so that Love, Friendship, Sympathy, Devotion, Memory, Hope, put on the beautiful garments of its treasured speech. No man is poor or desolate who has this treasure for his own."

Because of their religious views, some persons may be moved to make glowing statements about the Bible. Saying something good about it may seem to be 'the right thing to do.' Many, however, apparently have been very serious about pursuing knowledge of the Holy Scriptures. For instance, John Quincy Adams said: "I have for many years made it a practice to read through the Bible once every year."

What would happen if you were to read through the Bible once each year? Suppose you did this not hurriedly but allowing time for meditation. Would there be an improvement in the quality of your life? You would be entitled to think so if British statesman W. E. Gladstone was right. He said: "The Bible is stamped with a Specialty of Origin, and an immeasurable distance separates it from all competitors."

In essence, then, you have a right to ask: Would increased Bible knowledge really benefit me? Can I expect this book, customarily associated with Christianity, to help me to succeed in life?

MAKE A SUCCESS OF YOUR LIFE NOW

CHRIStIANITY? No, that's too restrictive for me. I want to be free! I want to have fun!" Have you ever heard people speak like this? Whether they say it or not, many seem to view Christianity in this way.

Yet is the life of one who rejects Christian standards truly free? The fact is, this world is not really a "fun" place at all. Half of it is desperately poor, with all the attendant ills of starvation, child exploitation and political rebellion. The wealthier part has problems, too. Spreading drug addiction, increasing crime and unrest, chronic child abuse and a surprising number of teenage suicides are just some indications that people the world over are living under pressures that many of them just cannot handle.

Actually, is Christianity really so restrictive? Does the following of Christian principles mean that we have to give up all pleasure and happiness? Not really. The apostle Paul said: "Godly devotion is beneficial for all things, as it holds promise of the life now and that which is to come." (1 Tim. 4:8) Yes, godly devotion, or the pursuing of genuine Christianity, helps us even now to live lives that are satisfying and full of purpose.

How is this? Well, consider just some of the advantages enjoyed by Christians that are not available to those who reject Christian standards.

COUNSEL AND ADVICE

True, counsel is not always welcome. Yet a glance at the advice columns in the newspapers will show that many people are desperately seeking counsel. Moreover, thousands of psychologists, marriage counselors and the like make a career out of giving advice to their troubled clients.

On the other hand, some who desperately need help often do not realize this. Recently, for example, a young man tried a potent drug known as "Angel Dust." While under its influence, he thought that his body had been invaded by rats. He drank rat poison and died. When that young man decided to experiment with the drug, he was, unknown to himself, making a life-or-death decision. If someone had given him sensible advice at that time—and if he had accepted it—he might still be alive.

It is ironic that many teenagers will seek advice and spend much time deciding what course of study they will follow or what career they will choose. However, on such matters as what kind of friends to have, whether to use drugs or how to view sexual morality, they will make decisions very casually. Yet, as experience shows, such decisions can make the difference between health and sickness, life and death.

As a help to recognize when advice is needed, and to assist in making decisions that will make "life now" more successful, the Christian has access to an unsurpassed source of counsel—the Bible. Some consider it out of date, but where else can we get such reliable advice? Human counselors propose all kinds of theories and ideas, some of which eventually prove to be positively harmful. But the Bible has stood the test of time. "Many are the plans in the heart of a man, but the counsel of Jehovah is what will stand."—Prov. 19:21.

The Bible's counsel never works harm to the person following it. To illustrate: The Scriptures counsel readers to "flee from fornication." (1 Cor. 6:18) Hence, there was no faithful Christian following Bible counsel among the two million Americans who contracted gonorrhea last year through immorality. Similarly, no one who follows Bible principles would pollute his body with tobacco, and, hence, risk suffering unnecessary heart ailments or cancer. Nor would he be among the large number who die each year because of driving automobiles while under the influence of drugs or alcohol.—2 Cor. 7:1.

Counsel in the Bible may be contrary to our inclinations. Perhaps we sometimes wish it would say something different, so that we could be more like the people around us. But a faithful Christian knows that, in the long run, doing what is advised in the Bible will be the best thing for him.

Those who have experienced the "freedom" of the world are often only too glad to give it up. One man was a chain smoker, as well as a heavy drinker, and was addicted to gambling at cockfights. Additionally, he greatly enjoyed sexually suggestive dancing. In time, he came in contact with a congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses. Although he was indulging to the full in the "freedom" that this world offers, he said it was a relief to change and mold his life anew according to the counsel in the Bible. The so-called restricted life of a Christian was much more satisfying. Many others have had similar experiences.—Rom. 12:2.

The Bible says: "Listen to counsel and accept discipline, in order that you may become wise in your future." (Prov. 19:20) A wise Christian never loses sight of his enviable privilege of having access to God's own counsel.

RELIABLE ASSOCIATION

Josephine was popular at school. She

Upbuilding association and doing things for others was bright, good at sports and a member of school organizations. For special events, she was usually the one chosen to represent the school.

Then this girl had the opportunity to study the Bible. Because she started to mold her life by Scriptural principles, her former friends began to shun her. This did not disturb her, however, because she had found friends of a different kind. As she said: "Jehovah's Witnesses are true friends, because when you need it, they are always ready to help you." True, her life had been seemingly happy before she became a practicing Christian. But she said: "Even though I was thoroughly spoiled by everyone in those days, I did not feel the happiness that I feel now."

These expressions highlight another advantage enjoyed by true Christians: reliable and good association. As the Biblical psalmist said: "How good and how pleasant it is for brothers to dwell together in unity!"—Ps. 133:1.

Doubtless, some outside the Christian congregation have pleasant personalities. But association with them will never build up our desire to serve God. It may, however, cause problems. One youth, explaining why he used drugs, spoke of the intense pressure to do so from his friends. He said: "Everybody gets high. If you don't, you're [an outsider]." For such people, peer pressure is a big problem. Often they do things they really do not want to do, rather than face ridicule because of being different. The observation of the apostle Paul was accurate: "Bad associations spoil useful habits."—1 Cor. 15:33.

On the other hand, genuine Christians never wrongly try to influence their neighbors. Jesus told his disciples: "You must love your neighbor as yourself." (Matt. 22:39) They are aware that "love does not work evil to one's neighbor." (Rom. 13:10) Hence, association with faithful Christians is always beneficial.

"He that is walking with wise persons will become wise," says the Biblical proverb. However, "he that is having dealings with the stupid ones will fare badly." (Prov. 13:20) "Wise persons" can be found within the Christian congregation. Association with these loyal witnesses of Jehovah God will help to make our "life now" more successful.

PEACE OF MIND

In the Middle Ages, people built castles for security, or for peace of mind. Today, individuals try to build big bank accounts or get an advanced education, hoping these will supply the same thing.

This does not work, though. It is true that billions of poor people suffer insecurity because of their poverty. Yet wealthy people do not seem to have peace of mind either. One evidence of this was called "The Doomsday Boom," in a recent report appearing in Newsweek magazine. This refers to a flourishing industry in America that caters to people who are preparing for disasters that they are sure will come. The report states: "Some are braced for man-made disasters—depression, deadly pollution, urban riots—while others have dug in against such natural catastrophes as drought or flood." Of course, for every one that makes this kind of active preparation, many, many more have an uneasy feeling that something bad is going to happen. It is just as Jesus prophesied for our day: "Men become faint out of fear and expectation of the things coming upon the inhabited earth." (Luke 21:26) Such fear robs a person of peace of mind.

No, in these days of inflation and international uncertainties, money gives very dubious security. Another thing that can rob us of peace of mind is emotional insecurity. This is what results in such things as broken homes and the tragedy of teenage suicide. When investigating suicide—listed as the third most prevalent cause of death among teenagers—investigators found that a recurrent cause was a terrible loneliness. It was as if they were saying: "I want to die, because nobody loves me."

Do Christians have to suffer such insecurities and emotional turmoil? No. They serve a God who cares for them, and this gives them peace of mind.

Jehovah God watches over his people even in a physical way. Jesus advised us: "Never be anxious and say, 'What are we to eat?' or, 'What are we to drink?' or, 'What are we to put on?' For all these are the things the nations are eagerly pursuing. For your heavenly Father knows you need all these things. Keep on, then, seeking first the kingdom and his righteousness, and all these other things will be added to you." Christians who are materially poor can testify to the fact that this is not an empty promise. God really does care for his servants.—Matt. 6:31-33.

Again, do Christians feel the need to make elaborate preparations for some possible future catastrophe? No. They know that a big change is coming soon, but they also know why it is coming, and they realize that Jehovah has promised protection for those who serve him. (Ps. 27:5; Isa. 26:20) Jesus, speaking of the difficult times we live in, said: "But as these things start to occur, raise yourselves erect and lift your heads up, because your deliverance is getting near."—Luke 21:28.

Even when a Christian suffers emotional problems, perhaps because of the death of a loved one or for some other reason, he is not left without help. He associates with fellow Christians who will 'speak consolingly to the depressed souls and will support the weak.' Moreover, the God he serves is "near to those that are broken at heart; and those who are crushed in spirit he [Jehovah] saves." Hence, a faithful Christian need never feel the aching loneliness that drives so many to suicide.—1 Thess. 5:14; Ps. 34:18.

NO PROBLEMS?

Does this mean that a true Christian's life is easy and without problems? Of course not. Today, life is not easy for anyone on earth. All have problems. Yet these very problems, taken in the right way, can be a source of encouragement to the Christian. For example, he has to face up to things like inflation, pollution and sickness, just like everyone else. But such problems give the Christian a chance to apply Bible counsel and see that it really works. Indeed, problems teach him to rely on God's wisdom rather than his own.—Ps. 119:105.

Similarly, a Christian witness of Jehovah has to fight the sinful tendencies of his flesh and avoid the enticements to wrongdoing in this world. (1 John 2:15-17) Doing so, he stands out as different from his worldly associates and may have to endure ridicule. But this can help him to grow spiritually. He can learn to 'carry on as a man,' instead of childishly following the crowd. (1 Cor. 16:13) He may even have to face persecution because of his refusal to compromise on what he knows is right. But this is not harmful, for it builds up his faith and teaches him to trust fully in Jehovah God. Thus persecution that God permits is a part of the training for a successful and happy life.—1 Pet. 1:6, 7; 5:6-11.

A genuine Christian makes sacrifices. He sacrifices time and effort that could be spent in relaxation, using much of that time helping others to learn about God's purposes. A follower of Christ may even sacrifice financially in order to serve his Creator more fully, or to avoid compromising. To a sincere Christian, however, such sacrifices are a source of joy. Jesus himself said: "There is more happiness in giving than there is in receiving." The serving of our neighbor, and particularly the serving of God, satisfies the deepest instincts in humans. It is what God created us to do. On the other hand, a life devoted solely to pleasure or selfish pursuits ultimately is frustrating, "a striving after wind."—Acts 20:35; Eccl. 12:13; 2:3-11.

Certainly, then, the benefits that a Christian witness of Jehovah enjoys are many and real. They far outweigh any sacrifices he may have to make. Truly, serving God "holds promise of the life now." And do not forget, it also holds promise of the life "which is to come." (1 Tim. 4:8) How unwise to give up such advantages for the dubious and very temporary benefits of the so-called freedom that this world offers!

Spain 'Hears About Jehovah And His Glory'

THE popular image of Spain is that of sunny Andalusia in the south, with raven-haired, dark-eyed señoritas dancing to flamenco music of guitars and chattering castanets. But Spain is a country of fascinating contrasts. For example, the rugged north has its green fields, mountains and rocky coasts. There the hardy, robust folk earn their living from the soil, the coal mines, the sea, or from the industries of the Basque country. And, interestingly, instead of the guitar, in the north you are more likely to hear drums and bagpipes.

Of course, the common denominator for all of Spain is the Roman Catholic religion. But now things are changing and the Church is losing its grip on millions of Spaniards.

A new constitution was accepted by popular vote in December 1978. Among other things, this has severed the official ties between the State and the Catholic Church.

Article 16.3 succinctly states: "No [religious] confession will have state character." This constitution guarantees religious liberty for all.

Against this background, what progress are Jehovah's Witnesses making in Spain? Well, it certainly is encouraging to compare the 1975 peak of 31,948 proclaimers of the "good news" with the peak of 43,276 in 1980, an increase of over 11,000 in just five years. Also, whereas in 1975 there were 534 Witness congregations in Spain, Andorra and the Canary Islands, there are now 784.

The zeal of Jehovah's people continues to impress many persons. For instance, one Protestant writer acknowledged (in Página abierta):

"Many people are surprised to know that there are so many hundreds or thousands of . . . [Witnesses] in their city. I would say that it is not surprising, but rather logical. Only a year ago they visited all the cities, from house to house, selling their famous book The Truth That Leads to Eternal Life. . . .

"The followers that this sect has now are only the logical fruit of the sowing they have done."

He then said of his fellow believers: "It is about time that we lost our spiritual shortsightedness, and instead of just having our Bibles tucked under our arm we should receive the vision of going out with a briefcase full of Gospels . . . since we cannot expect the Lord to bless with an abundant harvest a sowing of the seed that we have not carried out."

CHRISTIAN NEUTRALITY MAINTAINED

Due to its 40-year alliance with the Franco regime, the Catholic Church has lost prestige and credibility in Spain. Some of the younger priests are trying to break away from the traditional image, and so the clergy are divided over political issues.

In contrast, Jehovah's Witnesses are keeping themselves unspotted from political involvement. (John 15:19; Jas. 1:27) Witnesses have been called to serve at polling booths and have respectfully declined because of their Bible-trained conscience. Some have been subjected to threats, and a Witness in Logroño spent three days in police custody because she refused to serve at a voting center.

As to the question of military service, draftees who are Jehovah's Witnesses continue to be sent home until further notice. So at this time none of Jehovah's Witnesses are in prison for refusing to take up military service.

WITNESSING IN SCHOOLS

Some parents are taking the initiative to establish contact with school directors and teachers, and this has resulted in a fine witness, as well as in expressions of appreciation for Watch Tower publications.

In one case, an 11-year-old Witness girl from the Andalusian province of Cádiz took along to school the book Your Youth—Getting the Best out of It and placed nine copies with her classmates. A teacher looked the book over and exclaimed: "What a pity that the Catholic Church doesn't publish such a good book for the young people!"

Another teacher checked the book's contents and then told the young sister that she could get up in front of the class and speak about a Bible subject. She took her book and read the chapter "How Do You View Discipline?" and then commented on it. As a result, she started a Bible study with a girl in her class, and this girl and her mother later attended the Memorial.

A DISILLUSIONED CATHOLIC FINDS THE TRUTH

Another interesting experience is that involving Gloria, who was born in Logroño and raised in a Catholic family. She entered a cloister convent at the age of 19, starting her novitiate at Orense in 1952. After eight years in Catholic missionary service as a teacher in Venezuela, her father died and she returned to Spain to care for her mother. Nevertheless, Gloria continued to be a practicing Catholic, getting up every morning at 6 to attend early Mass. Twelve years later her mother died and Gloria moved to Barcelona. Meanwhile, her religious practice had begun to waver. Why? Because of the bad example set by some of the priests with whom she had contact, especially one considered "very holy and wise" but who had made an immoral proposition to her! So she eventually quit going to church.

Then in 1975 a traveling overseer of Jehovah's Witnesses called at her home and she listened. She explains:

"We were talking about subjects that had always bothered me because they did not seem to be either just or reasonable—hellfire, purgatory, the veneration of Mary, and so forth. He invited me to attend a meeting at the Kingdom Hall and I went . . . I came away very impressed. Everything that was said there was in agreement with the Bible, and that pleased me. I continued to attend the meetings, using the opportunity to observe the Witnesses. After two months I requested a Bible study. I was sure. Finally I had found the truth!"

DISCOS AND DRUGS ARE NOT THE ANSWER

In Spain today, there is a proliferation of discos and "pubs" where the temptations exist for immorality and drug-taking. Yet some are glad to break away from such practices and take up Jehovah's worship.

One such example is Julián, from Torrenueva, Ciudad Real. Back in 1971 he was drawn into the hippie world and began frequenting a disco in the Barcelona red-light district. This led to experiments with different drugs, culminating in "trips" with LSD. Julián even had a replica of the head of his "idol," a popular male singer, embroidered on the back of his jacket. It cost him 12,000 pesetas ($174, U.S.) and a month of living on bread, water and bacon fat to pay the bill.

However, as time passed, Julián realized that he had not found either true friendship or satisfaction in life. Thus, in April 1974, he decided he would visit a Catholic priest. At the same time, he was making arrangements to begin living with his girl friend. But that week an argument broke out among his workmates about whether Mary was really a virgin when she conceived Jesus. The majority, although being Catholics, did not accept Mary's virginity, except for one man who spoke up. Julián talked to him afterward and learned that he was studying with Jehovah's Witnesses. So Julián started to do so.

Needless to say, he did not go to see the priest that weekend and he did not begin living with his girl friend. After two weeks of Bible study, Julián destroyed his hippie gear, including his expensive jacket. Why? "I had to get rid of my past ties in order to get a new start."

Shortly afterward, Julián moved to the Pyrenean principality of Andorra to get away from his former associates. He got baptized as a dedicated witness of Jehovah in October 1974, and later started serving as a regular pioneer. In June 1978, he was called to serve at the Barcelona Bethel, where the Watch Tower Society's branch office is located in Spain.

"HAVING PLENTY TO DO IN THE WORK OF THE LORD"

With much work yet to be done, expansion is being planned. The Bethel family in Spain now consists of over 50 members. However, there is no room for expansion in the Watch Tower Society's facilities in Barcelona. So last spring there was located, on the outskirts of Madrid, a fine building complex that can be reconstructed to provide an excellent headquarters facility for Jehovah's Witnesses in Spain. But would the Spanish brothers be able to provide what was needed to purchase the building? The response truly has been overwhelming. It has been particularly moving to see sisters donating their precious rings, brooches and other jewelry.—Compare Exodus 35:20-24.

Yes, there is still "plenty to do in the work of the Lord" in Spain, and Jehovah's Witnesses are alive to this privilege. (1 Cor. 15:58) The message of truth is unifying people of many regions and origins—Catalonians, Andalusians, Galicians, Asturians, Castilians, Gypsies and Basques—to name just a few. Spaniards are receiving a report about Jehovah's kingdom, and many are telling others of his glory. —Isa. 66:19.

INSIGHT ON THE NEWS

● Millions of persons follow the predictions of psychics, or "seers." However, Jack Mabley, writing for the Chicago "Tribune," states: "If you take them seriously, and would buy a stock or sell silver on their say-so, my suggestion is to do the opposite of what they say. The seers are consistently wrong."

"Seers Are Consistently Wrong" Noting 62 of their predictions for 1980 published by a newspaper, Mabley said: "Not one of those 62 predictions was on the mark."

For example, a California psychic predicted that in 1980 "interest rates will decline as the economy improves." The opposite happened. Seven psychics predicted that Ted Kennedy would be elected president. He did not even win his party's nomination. Jeanne Dixon predicted regarding the then president Jimmy Carter: "An attempt on his life, related to a church, will be made in the fall." She also predicted that scandals would cost him several close, high-ranking officials. None of those predictions came true.

Not human predictions, but the inspired prophecies of God are what come true with unerring accuracy. (Isa. 46:9-11; 2 Pet. 1:20, 21) Hence, God's Word condemns false fore-tellers of events.—Deut. 18:10-12.

● In recent decades the "sexual revolution" has promoted the abandonment of morality in the name of "freedom."

"Sexual Revolution" Backfiring An example cited by "Maclean's" magazine of Canada is Sweden, where "prostitution is legal, as is pornography. Abortion is free on demand, courses on sexuality begin with seven-year-olds and contraceptives are given away in numerous youth clinics." However, after examining the results, the publication reports: "Swedes themselves are confronting a welter of social problems caused partly by the libidinous years: the accounting is not pleasant."

Swedish sociologist Rita Liljestrom comments: "Sexuality was seen as the key to a different political society. But now there seems to be a new debate: the feeling that we gained a lot but that we lost, too." She denounced the sexual revolution "as a pseudo-liberation that has left men and women even more alienated than before." Others who formerly had a permissive attitude now find that sex often has become degraded and animalistic, instead of an expression of deep love between married persons who care for each other. Also, they condemn pornography and prostitution, as they feel it has increased rape and has depersonalized sex. Well documented also is the increase that sexual permissiveness has brought in venereal disease, unwanted pregnancies, abortions and broken marriages due to infidelity.—Heb. 13:4.

● Writing in the Catholic "Herald Citizen" of Madison, Wisconsin, priest Andrew Breines said after two of Jehovah's

Priest Commands Witnesses Witnesses called at his rectory: "I've always been impressed by the zeal of [Jehovah's Witnesses]. No matter how recent their admission to the society, they immediately begin making house calls to spread the 'Good News.'" The clergyman noted that they "were putting God's work ahead of their own interests and convenience. God held the first place in their lives." He asked: "I wonder how many of us [Catholics] . . . can match their tireless zeal for evangelization. They go from house to house because they have accepted God's call not only for their own salvation but also to share the 'Good News' with others."

Learning that one of the two visiting Witnesses formerly was Catholic and the other was Lutheran, the priest asked them why they had become Jehovah's Witnesses. "They answered that it was coming to know 'the truth.' By that they meant coming to know Jesus Christ personally through faith and the prayerful reading of the Bible." Then the priest commented: "After my callers left, I couldn't help wondering if we, in the major religious denominations, don't often substitute . . . sacraments and programs for doing God's work of evangelization." But there can be no true substitute for evangelizing, as this was part of Jesus' command to those who would be his followers.—Matt. 10:7, 11-13; 24:14; 28:19, 20; Acts 20:20.

WHICH ORGANIZATION— JEHOVAH'S OR SATAN'S?

"Choose for yourselves today whom you will serve."—Josh. 24:15.

TO DAY the choice is between the two biggest organizations in existence. Historically, this is nothing new, but today the need for making the right choice is more urgent than ever before. Two thousand years ago a historical person, whose decision on the question would carry the greatest consequences for all the universe, was faced with the need to make such a choice.

<sup>2</sup> Two witnesses to this fact, two searchers for the historical facts, namely, Matthew Levi, a former tax collector, and Luke, a physician, give us the testimony establishing the truth of it. The historical person upon whom the eyes of the whole universe were then focused was Jesus Christ of the Middle East. Matthew Levi tells us that Satan the Devil "showed him all the kingdoms of the world and their glory, and he said to him: 'All these things I will give you if you fall down and do an act of worship to me.'" Jesus did not dispute Satan's claim to the organized world, but he unhesitatingly rejected Satan's offer. (Matt. 4:8-10) Jesus refused to desert the organization to which he already belonged and make himself a part of Satan's organization.

<sup>3</sup> A personal associate of Jesus Christ, namely, the former fisherman John, the son of Zebedee, wrote what is now listed as the last book of the Bible. In that book the adversary, Satan the Devil, is pictured as a creature whose makeup John could never have organized in his own mind. So under divine inspiration John pictures him as "a great fiery-colored dragon, with seven heads and ten horns and upon its heads seven diadems." (Rev. 1:1, 9, 10; 12:3) That oddly organized creature is called "the great dragon . . . the original serpent, the one called Devil and Satan." As the outcome of a war—think of it—in the invisible heavens, or spirit realm, the symbolic dragon "was hurled down to the earth, and his angels were hurled down with him." (Rev. 12:7-9) Those demonic angels who fought on Satan's side make up his spirit organization.

1, 2. (a) Today the choice is between what two things, and how urgent is the need to decide about it? (b) Nineteen centuries ago, whose decision on the matter was of universal consequence, and what choice was made by that one?

3. In the Revelation to the apostle John, how was Satan the Devil pictured, and of what was his organization composed?

<sup>4</sup> Satan the Devil also has a visible human part to his organization. Do we belong to it or side with it? In Revelation, chapter 13, it is pictured as a wild beast emerging from the sea. What course does the world of mankind take toward this symbolic creature? Listen: "And the dragon gave to the beast its power and its throne and great authority.... and all the earth followed the wild beast with admiration. And they worshiped the dragon because it gave the authority to the wild beast, and they worshiped the wild beast with the words: 'Who is like the wild beast, and who can do battle with it?'" (Rev. 13:2-4) Those worshipers of the visible earthly part of Satan's organization will have their minds disabused, for, according to Revelation 19:11-21, the glorified Jesus Christ with his organized angelic armies will do battle with the "wild beast" at Har-Magedon and destroy it.

—Rev. 16:14-16.

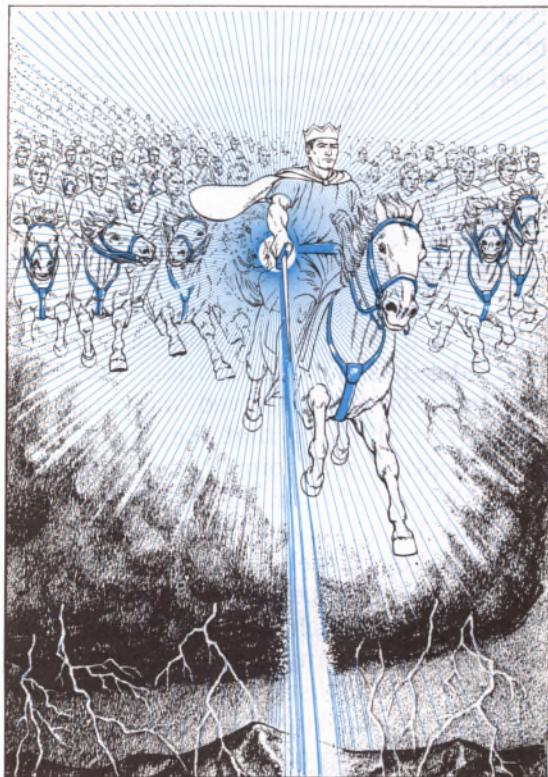

<sup>5</sup> Till then, what the apostle Paul speaks of at Ephesians 2:2 keeps existing, "the system of things of this world, according to the ruler of the authority of the air, the spirit that now operates in the sons of disobedience." Also, at 2 Corinthians 4:4, Paul says that "the god of this system of things has blinded the minds of the unbelievers." For what purpose? "That the illumination of the glorious good news about the Christ, who is the image of God, might not shine through."

6. (a) According to Ephesians 6:11-18, what kind of warfare are Christians obliged to wage? (b) Does this mean that there is no visible part of Satan's organization with which to contend?

ganization in Ephesians 6:12, where we read: "We have a wrestling, not against blood and flesh, but against the governments, against the authorities, against the world rulers of this darkness, against the wicked spirit forces in the heavenly places." Paul is not here saying that there is no visible earthly part to Satan's organization. He is merely reminding us that we as Christians are not fighting a violent combat against the visible human elements of Satan's organization in order to overthrow it. Jesus Christ, when in the flesh on the earth, did not try to overthrow Satan's organization, and neither should his followers try to do so, for in such an effort they would waste their time and would fail. They need to carry on a spiritual war in order not to be made a part of Satan's organization, and for this they need to take to themselves the armor and weapons that Paul describes in Ephesians 6:11-18.

<sup>7</sup> There is no denying that Satan has a mighty organization with invisible and visible parts. Satan the Devil is a mimic for the purpose of deception, and the fact that he has an organization argues, in effect, that his chief opponent, Jehovah God, also has an organization. So Satan the imitator has deceived multitudes of people into thinking that they are accepting, adopting and joining the right and proper thing. (2 Cor. 11:13-15) Just call to mind Jesus' parable of the wheat and the tares, or darnel, as an illustration of this. The early appearance of the tares, or darnel, was so much like that of the wheat that there was danger at that early stage of growth that, instead of the Devil-sown tare, or darnel, plantlets, the wheat plantlets might be uprooted. (Matt. 13:24-30, 36-43) Jesus explained that the tares, darnel, or weeds, pictured "the sons of the wicked one, and the enemy that sowed them is the Devil."

<sup>8</sup> In the harvest now taking place during the 'conclusion of a system of things,' the symbolic weeds make up the foretold antichrist. In his first letter, written near the end of the first century, the apostle John writes, saying: "Just as you have heard that antichrist is coming, even now there have come to be many antichrists . . . This is the antichrist, the one that denies the Father and the Son." (1 John 2:18, 22)

7. (a) The fact that Satan has an organization argues what with respect to God, and why? (b) How was this illustrated in Jesus' parable about the field that was oversown by the planter's adversary?

8. According to John's first letter and Paul's second letter to the Thessalonians, what would those symbolic weeds picture?

This agrees with what the apostle Paul wrote about 50 years earlier concerning the day of Jehovah. He said: "It will not come unless the apostasy comes first and the man of lawlessness gets revealed, the son of destruction." Of course, Paul was not referring to a literal man, for he went on to say: "True, the mystery of this lawlessness is already at work; . . . But the lawless one's presence is according to the operation of Satan with every powerful work and lying signs and portents and with every unrighteous deception for those who are perishing, as a retribution because they did not accept the love of the truth that they might be saved."—2 Thess. 2:3, 7-10.

<sup>9</sup> From those words it is evident that the antichrist, the apostate man of lawlessness, "the mystery of this lawlessness," is Satan's masterpiece in the form of an organization. It is an imitation of organized Christianity and so an opposer of it. As a replacement of true organized Christianity, it finds its expression in present-day Christendom, this name meaning the realm of Christianity. That is certainly a deceptive name, for Christendom is really the most powerful part of Babylon the Great, the world empire of false religion, under the emperorship of Satan the Devil.

<sup>10</sup> In the light of what the apostles Paul and John said, Christendom is a departure from the true, original congregation of Jesus Christ, really an apostasy from it, yes, a rebellion against it. Unlike the first-century Christian congregation, Christendom today embraces more than a thousand religious sectarian organizations, each and every one of which claims to be Christian, the exponent of Bible Christianity.

9. (a) How does "the mystery of this lawlessness" rank as a work of Satan? (b) How does Christendom rate as a part of Babylon the Great?

10. In the light of the words of John and Paul, what really is Christendom today, and what does each member organization of it claim to be?

ITS NAME?

<sup>11</sup> With reference to those divided religious organizations that make up Christendom, the issue of the Watch Tower magazine for February of 1884 (almost a century ago) said the following under the heading "Our Name":

"New readers in all parts of the country are constantly inquiring: By what name do you call yourselves? Are you 'Primitive Baptists'? Are you 'Missionary Baptists'? Are you 'Universalists'? Are you 'Adventists'? Are you 'Primitive Methodists'? etc., etc. We have several times tried to make clear our position, and now endeavor in a few words again to do so.

"We belong to no earthly organization; hence, if you should name the entire list of sects, we should answer, No, to each and to all. We adhere only to the heavenly organization—'whose names are written in heaven.' (Heb. 12:23; Luke 10:20.) All the saints now living, or that have lived during this age, belonged to OUR CHURCH ORGANIZATION: such are all ONE Church, and there is NO OTHER recognized by the Lord. Hence any earthly organization which in the least interferes with this union of saints is contrary to the teachings of Scripture and opposed to the Lord's will—that they may be ONE.' (John 17:11.)"

<sup>12</sup> Indicating that the consecrated, baptized members of the true spirit-begotten church, or congregation, are united with the invisible heavenly part of God's organization, the Watch Tower issue of March of 1883, page 6, said the following:

"But, though it is impossible for the natural man to see our organization, because he cannot understand the things of the Spirit of God, we trust that you can see that the true Church is most effectually organized, and in the best possible working order. . . .

"Recognizing this organization, which is of the Spirit, and desiring no assimilation whatever with the worldly, who cannot see or understand it, we are quite willing to bear the reproach of a peculiar people. . . .

"We have unbounded faith in our Captain; and this perfect organization, invisible to the world, marches on to certain and glorious victory."

<sup>13</sup> In the year 1904 the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society published the book entitled "The New Creation." The title of this publication was based on the following Bible texts: "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." (2 Cor. 5:17, Authorized Version) "For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature." (Gal. 6:15, AV) Study V of Volume 6 of Studies in the Scriptures, page 195, opens up with saying: "As the New Creation will not reach its perfection or completion until the First Resurrection, so its organization will be completed only then. The temple figure illustrates this: as living stones we are now called, or invited to places in the glorious temple, and, as the Apostle explains (1 Pet. 2:5), we come to Jesus, who, as the Father's representative, shapes, chisels, fits and polishes us for places in the glorious Temple of the future—the meeting-place between God and the world." Appropriately, the title of that Study or Chapter V is "The Organization of the New Creation."

<sup>14</sup> The foregoing illustrates how persons who had come out of Babylon the Great and had associated with the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society viewed matters before World War I erupted in 1914. After their tough experiences during that world conflict, the loyal members of God's "new creation" found themselves more at odds with Babylon the Great than ever before. Their spiritual insight toward many Bible prophecies that were due to be fulfilled since 1914 was sharpened. A postwar convention of many hundreds of them was held at Cedar Point, Ohio, U.S.A., September 1-8, 1919, and they began to discern the features of God's work that yet lay ahead of them. The expression "God's organization" came to the fore!

<sup>15</sup> In September of 1922 a second convention was held at Cedar Point, Ohio. On Friday, September 8, which was programmed as "The Day," J. F. Rutherford, then president of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, delivered his historic address based on Matthew 4:17 (AV), "The kingdom of heaven is at hand." He dwelt at length on the prophecy of Isaiah, chapter 6, in its up-to-date application. His pointed words regarding the enemy organization deserve republication:

"Jehovah, the great ruler of the universe, in whom all domination rightfully lies, planned the redemption and deliverance of the human race and organized the nation of Israel to foreshadow such. With that nation he organized the true religion, commanding that they should worship him as the only true God. Satan, the opposer, the mimic God, organized amongst the people round about Israel the false religion, and caused them to worship him and other devils. The power exercised by Jehovah upon his people is the holy spirit. The tie that binds Satan to his followers is the evil spirit. Because of yielding to his machinations Israel was overreached by him. God pronounced a decree against the nation, and enforced that decree in 606 B.C.; and there Satan became the god of this world. He is also called the prince of the power of the air, thus indicating his organization visible and invisible. . . .

"The financial princes and the mighty rulers of earth assembled in Paris for a peace conference, and the clergy of nominal Christendom joined with them; and the result was the bringing forth of the League of Nations, the devil's final substitute for the kingdom of Messiah. Nominal Christendom now not only was allied with big business and big polities, but boasted of the fact; and the nominal church (now a part of the devil's organization, with no authority to act in the priestly office) came forward to offer incense. . . .

" . . . But will the ecclesiastic leaders and their flock supporting the devil's organization hear? The Lord's prophet answers: 'Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not. . . .'

<sup>16</sup> In harmony with his theme text on God's kingdom by Christ, J. F. Rutherford climaxed his stirring talk by saying:

"Herald the message far and wide. The world must know that Jehovah is God and that Jesus Christ is King of kings and Lord of lords. This is the day of all days. Behold, the King reigns! You are his publicity agents. Therefore advertise, advertise, advertise, the King and his kingdom."—The Watch Tower, November 1, 1922, pages 331-337.

<sup>17</sup> In its issue of December 15, 1922, under the subheading "Field Organization," The Watch Tower said in its annual report: "The efficiency with which the witness must be given of necessity depends largely upon the organized efforts made in the field." (Page 389) Since that early postwar year (1922) the world population has been increased by two thousand million inhabitants of the earth. The advertisers of Jehovah's appointed King and his Messianic kingdom have also increased. In the light of the efficient witness that these have given till now, Jehovah's dedicated, baptized witnesses have borne inerasable testimony as to where they stand on the supreme issue of the day, "Which organization, Jehovah's or Satan's?"

16. With what appeal did the speaker climax his talk on the theme of God's kingdom by Christ?

17. Because of the fine "field organization" since 1922, what has resulted despite the population growth since then, and to what have Jehovah's Witnesses thus borne testimony?

IF GOD HAS AN ORGANIZATION, WHAT IS IT?

STRENGELY, in this highly intelligent age, many have given way to doubt as to whether God has an organization. Some hesitate, yes, now fear to use the expression "God's organization," because they have noted that their translation of the Bible does not use the word "organization" in connection with God or at all.

<sup>2</sup> Certainly no reasonable person will argue that the highly organized governments of today, even those of Christendom, are God's organization or even a part of it. No one could prove it even by appealing to the words of the apostle Paul at Romans 13:1, 2: "There is no authority, save by God, And they that are in being have by God been arranged,—So that he who rangeth himself against the authority Against the arrangement of God opposeth himself." (Rotherham) At the same time, particularly since the year 1922, Jehovah's Witnesses have been efficiently organized for fulfilling the prophecy of Jesus, at Matthew 24:14: "This good news of the kingdom will be preached in all the inhabited earth for a witness to all the nations; and then the end will come." So where does that put them with relation to God, Jehovah of armies? Are they merely a man-made organization that God can use, if he chooses, or are they the visible earthly part of God's organization? Let facts speak!

<sup>3</sup> Let the honest-hearted person compare the kind of preaching of the gospel of the Kingdom done by the religious systems of Christendom during all the centuries with that done by Jehovah's Witnesses since the end of World War I in 1918. They are not one and the same kind. That of Jehovah's Witnesses is really "gospel," or "good news," as of God's heavenly kingdom that was established by the enthronement of his Son Jesus Christ at the end of the Gentile Times in 1914. (Luke 21:24) The worldwide witness given to this effect under the barrage of international persecution and opposition could have been given only by means of God's all-conquering spirit. It

1. What is the attitude of some today toward the expression "God's organization," and why?

2. (a) In view of Romans 13:1, 2, can it be argued that the governments of Christendom are God's visible organization? (b) What questions arise as to Jehovah's Witnesses who, since 1922, have been organized to fulfill Matthew 24:14?

3, 4. (a) How does the message as proclaimed by Christendom during the past centuries compare with the "gospel" proclaimed by Jehovah's Witnesses since 1914? (b) How only could this have been accomplished under persecution and opposition, and what does Revelation 14:6, 7 indicate?

was accomplished neither by the spirit of man nor by that of Satan the Devil. It was done with the help of God's holy angels, as is indicated in Revelation 14:6, 7:

<sup>4</sup> "And I saw another angel flying in midheaven, and he had everlasting good news to declare as glad tidings to those who dwell on the earth, and to every nation and tribe and tongue and people, saying in a loud voice: 'Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of the judgment by him has arrived, and so worship the One who made the heaven and the earth and sea and fountains of waters.'"

<sup>5</sup> Thus the One to be feared now in this time for individual decision is the Creator, the Universal Organizer. In the book of Job we are given a glimpse into his heavenly family of angelic sons. The organizer of the worldly system of things since the deluge of Noah's day, Satan the Devil, was once a member of that family. At Job 1:6, 7 he is pictured as an intruder into family affairs, for there we read: "Now it came to be the day when the sons of the true God entered to take their station before Jehovah, and even Satan proceeded to enter right among them. Then Jehovah said to Satan: 'Where do you come from?' At that Satan answered Jehovah and said: 'From roving about in the earth and from walking about in it.'" At Job 2:1, 2 a similar picture is painted of a later meeting of the sons of the true God in the invisible heavens.

<sup>6</sup> What do those two gatherings of the sons of Jehovah God indicate, and what would it be proper for those making up that family group to be called? What appropriate word or words come to mind? We leave it for the reader to say. Those meetings were formal ones, with the true God rightfully presiding. Satan's being admitted to those meetings does not mean that he was still viewed as one of "the sons of the true God" and was still part of God's heavenly household. His very designation "Satan" indicates he was not, for the name means "Opposer." So he had no good purpose in moving about in the earth as a spirit invisible to men. He was opposed to any man who tried to keep his integrity toward the true God. With divine permission he made that righteous, God-fearing man named Job of the land of Uz the victim of his attacks. But he failed in his dastardly purpose to bring the universal sovereignty of Jehovah God into contempt before men on earth as well as angels in heaven. Job's faithful example proved to be a great encouragement to Jehovah's heavenly family of angelic sons.

6. (a) What does such a meeting of the heavenly "sons of the true God," presided over by Jehovah God, indicate? (b) How were those "sons of the true God" encouraged by the example furnished to them by Job?

<sup>7</sup> Satan may have thought that he would win out as he did in the case of the first man on earth, Adam the son of God. Toward the end of the sixth creative day, when as yet there was no man or human creature on earth, God said: "Let us make man in our image, according to our likeness." God was not here using the editorial "we," as if talking to himself. He was addressing at least another person whom he wanted to bring into the creative act. (Gen. 1:26) No open-minded person will deny that this called for heavenly co-operation. Unhappily the first human creatures, Adam and Eve, went over onto the side of the unseen spirit person behind the visible serpent, making it call God a liar. Their disobedience to God put them out of God's universal family of children, and they were expelled from the garden of Eden. Then God "posted at the east of the garden of Eden the cherubs and the flaming blade of a sword that was turning itself continually to guard the way to the tree of life" inside the garden. (Gen. 3:24) There were at least two cherubs, and they were members of God's heavenly household who had been authorized to materialize and appear to humankind.

<sup>8</sup> Thus it becomes evident that at that early stage in human existence there were already others in God's heavenly household. That was why, when Jehovah God was asking questions with regard to the foundation of the earth, he said: "Into what have its socket pedestals been sunk down, or who laid its cornerstone, when the morning stars joyfully cried out together, and all the sons of God began shouting in applause?"—Job 38:6, 7.

<sup>9</sup> Psalms 80:1 and 99:1 say that Jehovah is "sitting upon the cherubs." This description is likely borrowed from the case of the sacred ark of the covenant that was located in the Most Holy of the temple at Jerusalem. Upon that ark there were two golden cherubs with wings stretched out toward one another, and, centered above, there appeared the so-called Shekinah light that represented the presence of Jehovah God at his temple. In a miraculous vision of the interior of the temple the prophet Isaiah saw Jehovah on his throne and attended by spirit creatures called seraphs. (Isa. chap. 6) Besides seraphs and cherubs, there are the angels in general, such as are spoken of in the last book of the Bible, Revelation. Not to be overlooked or omitted, there is the heavenly creature named Michael. He is said to be "one of the foremost princes" and "the prince of you people," that is, Daniel's people. (Dan. 10:13, 21; 12:1) Fittingly, Jude 9 calls him "Michael the archangel."

8. So did it then become evident that there were others in God's household, and what does Job 38:6, 7 show about this?

9. What orders of heavenly creatures are mentioned in the Psalms, in Isaiah 6:2, and in Daniel's prophecy?

<sup>10</sup> With regard to a vision of special heavenly grandeur, the prophet Daniel says: "I kept on beholding until there were thrones placed and the Ancient of Days sat down. His clothing was white just like snow, and the hair of his head was like clean wool. His throne was flames of fire; its wheels were a burning fire. There was a stream of fire flowing and going out from before him. There were a thousand thousands that kept ministering to him, and ten thousand times ten thousand that kept standing right before him. The Court took its seat, and there were books that were opened." (Dan. 7:9, 10) At that divine Court, order had to obtain, especially with  $10,000 \times 10,000$  ministering to the Judge.

<sup>11</sup> In line with this it is stated at Psalm 103:19-21: "Jehovah himself has firmly established his throne in the very heavens; and over everything his own kingship has held domination. Bless Jehovah, O you angels of his, mighty in power, carrying out his word, by listening to the voice of his word. Bless Jehovah, all you armies of his, you ministers of his, doing his will." Quite appropriately, from the writing of 1 Samuel 1:3 onward, the Universal Sovereign was called "Jehovah of armies." —Jas. 5:4, New World Translation.

<sup>12</sup> So now, in the light of all the foregoing Scripture references, what do we find spelled out for us by the fact that God's heavenly personnel includes an archangel, princes, cherubs, seraphs, angels, armies, all these ranks and orders or levels of being and "armies" acting in perfect harmony with full subjection to the Ancient of Days, Jehovah God? It spells out, it calls for, an organizing of all those in God's heavenly personnel. It constitutes all such heavenly personnel God's organization. It means that God has an organization, the Hebrew word for which is histadruth' and the Greek word for which is organ'osis.

THE "WOMAN" IN HEAVEN

<sup>13</sup> When Adam and Eve sinned against God, it affected His universal organization, of which they were the earthly visible part. They ceased to be members of the family of which he is the heavenly Father, the Creator. They went over to the side of the unseen spirit creature who was behind the lying serpent. Certainly the literal serpent did not understand what God meant when he said seemingly to it: "Because you have done this thing, you are the cursed one out of all the domestic animals and out of all the wild beasts of the field. Upon your belly you will go and dust is what you will eat all the days of your life. And I shall put enmity between you and the woman and between your seed and her seed. He will bruise you in the head and you will bruise him in the heel." —Gen. 3:14, 15.

<sup>14</sup> Taken literally, those words would mean what? That there was to be a deadly hatred between the literal serpent and the literal woman. Also, that the seed or offspring of Eve would be the relentless enemy of the descendants of that serpent; and that serpent was to live on until the seed of the woman Eve arrived. Then that "seed" would be bruised in the literal heel by the serpent, and, in turn, the wounded "seed" would bruise the serpent in the head, evidently putting it to death. But of how much comfort or of how much benefit would that be to all mankind? Really, such a literal explanation does not make sense. It leads to so many difficulties that any mentally balanced Bible student is obliged to admit that God's words at Genesis 3:14, 15 must have a symbolic

13. (a) When Adam and Eve sinned, how did this affect God's organization? (b) What did God then say seemingly to the serpent, but not understandable by it?

14. Why must a literal application of God's words to the serpent be out of order, and what kind of serpent and woman must be meant?

meaning. So the serpent that asked Eve the catch question must symbolize something greater, and also the "woman" mentioned in this connection must be a symbolic "woman."

<sup>15</sup> Well, now, do we need to guess at the identity of the symbolic serpent? No! The Bible itself speaks for us. At Revelation 12:9 it speaks of that mystery serpent as "the great dragon," "the original serpent, the one called Devil and Satan." He was originally the symbolic serpent, and by 96 C.E., about when the apostle John wrote the book of Revelation, Satan the Devil as a symbolic serpent was more than 4,100 years old. By now, when the Revelation vision is about to be fulfilled, that "original serpent" is around 6,000 years old, which is longer than any literal serpent has ever lived. John 8:44 says that "he is a liar and the father of [the lie]."

<sup>16</sup> Since Eve, to whom Satan the Devil lied by means of the serpent, was not the "woman" referred to in Genesis 3:15, who is she? Again the book of Revelation helps us to a correct understanding. Chapter 12 describes a confrontation of Satan the Devil and a "woman" who, from head to foot, is clothed with light by the sun, moon and stars (12 of these). Common sense tells us that this must be a symbolic "woman" in heaven, for none of the heavenly angels are spoken of as females. She is pregnant, and, like a devouring dragon, Satan the Devil waits to swallow down the offspring to which she gives birth. But the heavenly Father of that offspring is watching and blocks Satan, so that at the birth of a male offspring it is "caught away to God and to his throne," that from there it might "shepherd all the nations with an iron rod." (Rev. 12:1-5) That royal birth does not end the enmity of Satan toward this symbolic "woman," for she has to be nourished spiritually under divine protection against Satan. War in heaven follows.

<sup>17</sup> Michael the archangel is in charge of the forces of "Jehovah of armies." With these angelic armies Michael fights in support of the enthroned newly born child of the "woman." Satan, "the original serpent," is due for a bruising in the head, and he and his demonic angels lose the battle. They are ousted from heaven and are hurled down to our earth. But Satan is not thereby bruised in the head, for he is still very much alive. Little wonder, then, that the cry rings out from heaven: "Woe for the earth and for the sea, because the Devil has come down to you, having great anger, knowing he has a short period of time."—Rev. 12:7-12.

<sup>18</sup> Since Michael the archangel and his angels gain the victory and the royal "child" is not unseated from his heavenly throne alongside God, the heavenly announcement is a proper one: "Now have come to pass the salvation and the power and the kingdom of our God and the authority of his Christ, because the accuser of our brothers has been hurled down, who accuses them day and night before our God! . . . On this account be glad, you heavens."

<sup>19</sup> The male "child" that is mentioned in Revelation 12:5 is evidently symbolic. All the things said in connection with it disclose that it pictures, not an individual person, but God's kingdom with his Son Jesus Christ having the authority to shepherd all the nations with an iron rod, to smash them to pieces in the yet future "war of the great day of God the Almighty" at Har-Magedon. (Rev. 16:14-16) As the "child" is not an individual person, so its mother, the "woman" in heaven, is not an individual person. Since this symbolic "woman" was made pregnant by God as her husband, she must picture God's spiritual organization. This organization provides the personnel of that heavenly kingdom, not only the glorified Jesus Christ, evidently acting under the role of Michael the archangel, but also his spiritual "brothers," who are also the "bro-ers" of God's spiritual organization.—Rev. 12:10, 11.

<sup>20</sup> There is yet a remnant of these spiritual "brothers" on our woebegone earth. For Revelation 12:17 goes on to say: "And the dragon grew wrathful at the woman, and went off to wage war with the remaining ones of her seed, who observe the commandments of God and have the work of bearing witness to Jesus." As part of the seed of God's "woman," they have the Kingdom hope.

20. How does Revelation 12:17 indicate whether there are yet on earth any of the "brothers" of God's spiritual organization?

THE VISIBLE PART OF GOD'S ORGANIZATION

TO PERSONS widely read in the Bible it is nothing new or recent that God should be spoken of as a Husband. When Jesus Christ himself said: "It is written in the Prophets, 'And they will all be taught by Jehovah'" (John 6:45), he was quoting from a prophecy that spoke of God as a Husband. This prophecy, Isaiah 54:1-5, 13, says (in part):

<sup>2</sup> "Cry out joyfully, you barren woman that did not give birth! . . . For your Grand Maker is your husbandly owner, Jehovah of armies being his name; and the Holy One of Israel is your Repurchaser. . . . And all your sons will be persons taught by Jehovah, and the peace of your sons will be abundant."

<sup>3</sup> The apostle Paul quoted from that same prophecy of Isaiah, chapter 54, when he said: "For it is written: 'Be glad, you barren woman who does not give birth; break out and cry aloud, you woman who does not have childbirth pains; for the children of the desolate woman are more

1, 2. (a) Is it anything new or recent for Jehovah to be spoken of as a Husband? (b) How does Isaiah 54:1-5, 13 bear out the answer?

3. When, at Galatians 4:27, the apostle Paul quoted from that same prophecy of Isaiah, was he referring to literal women on earth in any sense?

numerous than those of her who has the husband.’” (Gal. 4:27) Certainly the apostle Paul was not there speaking of literal women on earth, for Jehovah God was not the Husband of an individual woman in either a typical sense or in a symbolic sense. What was figuratively God’s “wife” was something greater.

<sup>4</sup> What was it? Why, God’s organization, which he created for himself and which can never be induced to believe that God is a selfish liar! Like a husband, he will make it fruitful so that it gives birth to a “seed,” or offspring, by means of which God will destroy Satan and the organization he started with Adam and Eve.

<sup>5</sup> The “Seed” of God’s “woman” or “wife” began to be provided in the person of the only-begotten Son of God in heaven. When? At the time that his life, which up till then had been in the spirit realm, in heaven, was transferred to the womb of the virgin Jewess Mary, for her to become pregnant with a child, in 2 B.C.E. So Mary was not “the woman” of Genesis 3:15. Nor did Mary prove to be the mother of those whom Revelation 12:17 calls “the remaining ones of her seed.”—Note Galatians 4:26-31.

<sup>6</sup> Just as the first man on earth, Adam, when perfect in the garden of Eden, was a “son of God” and was part of God’s universal organization, so Jesus as a perfect man on earth was a visible part of God’s organization of sons. (Luke 3:21-38) In prayer to God, Jesus said concerning himself and his disciples: “They are no part of the world, just as I am no part of the world.” (John 17:14, 16) Later Jesus said to the Roman governor, Pontius Pilate: “My kingdom is no part of this

4. What, then, was this “something greater”?

5. When was the principal one of the “seed” spoken of in Genesis 3:15 provided, and how so?

6. (a) When on earth as a perfect man, Jesus was a part of what organization? (b) When did Jesus’ disciples start becoming part of God’s spiritual organization?

world.” (John 18:36) This was because Jesus Christ was a part of God’s spiritual organization, God’s “woman,” of whom he was the principal one of her “seed.” From the day of Pentecost of 33 C.E. onward, when the glorified Jesus in heaven poured out holy spirit upon his faithful disciples on earth, these became part of the “seed” of God’s “woman.” They made up the visible part of God’s spiritual organization. Though in the world, they were no part of it.—Acts 2:1-47.

<sup>7</sup> In view of the foregoing, even Jesus Christ is spoken of as a Bridegroom with a prospective “bride.” She, of course, is not a literal woman. If she is not such, then what is she? She is a “bride” of many component parts, a composite “bride,” and so an organization following, imitating and doing the will of the prospective Bridegroom. Call it an ecclesia, an assembly, a congregation, if you prefer. (Deut. 4:10; 9:10; 18:16, Greek Septuagint Version; Acts 7:38) The last book of the Bible refers to this prospective heavenly mate of the glorified Christ when, at Revelation 22:17, it says: “And the spirit and the bride keep on saying: ‘Come!’ ”

<sup>8</sup> To the ecclesia or congregation in Corinth, Greece, the apostle Paul wrote: “I personally promised you in marriage to one husband that I might present you as a chaste virgin to the Christ.” (2 Cor. 11:2) At Hebrews 1:8, 9 the apostle Paul applies Psalm 45 to Jesus Christ as the Son of God. This prophetic psalm likens the Son of God to a Bridegroom, for Psalm 45:13-15 goes on to say: “The king’s daughter is all glorious within the house; her clothing is with settings of gold. In woven apparel she will be brought to the

7. What kind of “bride” does the prospective husband Jesus Christ have, and what does she say according to Revelation 22:17?

8. (a) In 2 Corinthians 11:2 the apostle Paul likens the Christian congregation of his day to what? (b) Since Paul quotes from Psalm 45 to connect it with Jesus, who, then, is the woman that is brought to the Messianic king as her Lord?

king. The virgins in her train as her companions are being brought in to you. They will be brought with rejoicing and joyfulness; they will enter into the palace of the king."

<sup>9</sup> Even John the Baptizer likened Jesus Christ to a Bridegroom and his future disciples to a prospective bride. Because of having the privilege of introducing the first disciples to the baptized, anointed Jesus, John said: "I said, I am not the Christ, but, I have been sent forth in advance of that one. He that has the bride is the bridegroom. However, the friend of the bridegroom, when he stands and hears him, has a great deal of joy on account of the voice of the bridegroom. Therefore this joy of mine has been made full." (John 3:28, 29) John the Baptizer did not expect to be made part of the spiritual "bride" of the Christ. He remained merely a "friend of the bridegroom." Nevertheless, like those virgin bridesmaids of Psalm 45:13-15 he rejoiced unselfishly.

<sup>10</sup> The point of all of this is that as the heavenly Bridegroom is part of God's spiritual organization so the prospective "bride" class, begotten of God's spirit while yet on earth, is the visible part of God's spiritual organization. The truth of this situation is strengthened by the fact that this "bride," who has a husbandly head, is at the same time the spiritual body of Christ. To the ecclesia, or congregation, at Rome Paul wrote: "So we, although many, are one body in union with Christ, but members belonging individually to one another." (Rom. 12:5) To the congregation in Corinth, Paul wrote: "For truly by one spirit we were all baptized into one body, . . . Now you are Christ's body, and members individually." (1 Cor. 12:13, 27) Since now the Head of that spiritual body, the glorified Jesus Christ, is part of God's spiritual organization, so the members of his "body" are part of God's organization, only, at present, the visible part of it. It is not amiss to say that they are God's visible organization on earth. "God has arranged the body." (1 Cor. 12:24, The Jerusalem Bible) "But God has organized the body."—The Riverside New Testament by William G. Balaantine.

GOD'S ORGANIZED, DEDICATED PEOPLE ON EARTH TODAY

<sup>11</sup> Reorganization within Satan's visible system of things became necessary for the war-battered nations at the close of World War I in 1918. A new actor had stepped onto the stage of international affairs in the form of the Bolsheviks or Communists, who staged a violent revolution in Russia and took over the political control of its sprawling empire in Europe and Asia. What a world the "remaining ones of [the woman's] seed" had to face! There was need for reorganization on their part. They had to look at the future from a new and quite revolutionary standpoint, in the light of Bible prophecies opening up to their understanding as never before. Satisfying proof was at hand, from Bible chronology and prophecy and from world happenings, that the Gentile Times, "the appointed times of the nations," had ended in October of 1914. (Luke 21:24) Since then the old world has been in its "time of the end" or in its "last days." (Dan. 12:4; 2 Tim. 3:1) That being the case, it

9. To what did John the Baptizer liken Jesus Christ and the group of his disciples?

10. (a) Why is it correct to say that the "bride" class is the visible part of God's spiritual organization? (b) How is that situation supported by what Paul wrote concerning Christ the Head in letters to the Romans and Corinthians?

11. After World War I, why was there need for reorganization on the part of the worldly nations and also on the part of the "remaining ones of [the woman's] seed"?

was the due time for a new set of people, not the Communists, but God-fearing persons, to make their appearance on the world stage of action. The identity of these cleared up as time went on.

<sup>12</sup> These were in line for surviving the destruction of the old system of things at Armageddon and would enter the new system of things under Christ's heavenly kingdom. This would afford them the opportunity of never dying off the face of our earth, which the Kingdom would transform into a paradise. This hope, the like of which was never proclaimed before, was publicly proclaimed in Los Angeles, California, U.S.A., in February 1918, before World War I ended more than eight months later. Those adopting such a hope would never expect to go to heaven so as to become part of God's organization up there. After the war a fresh look was taken at Jesus' prophetic words recorded in John 10:16. So in 1921 the Watch Tower Society published the book entitled "The Harp of God," which in paragraphs 577, 578, on page 345, said:

12. (a) The earthly hope for such God-fearing people then appearing on the world scene began to be proclaimed when and where before World War I ended? (b) So with whom did the book entitled "The Harp of God," published in 1921, connect up John 10:16?

"That those who are to be saved are not confined to the ones who go to heaven Jesus proved when he said: 'Other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice.' (John 10:16) 'This fold' means the church; and after this class is selected, then all must have an opportunity to come into the fold of Christ. [Authorized Version of John 10:16] And this is true because he bought them all with his precious blood.

"God caused the Prophet David to write: 'All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord; and shall glorify thy name.' (Psalm 86:9) This is further corroborative proof that all must have an opportunity."

<sup>13</sup> In the year 1923 a nine-day convention was held in Los Angeles, California, cli-

13. At the Los Angeles convention in 1923, how did the key speech connect up Jesus' parable of the sheep and the goats with John 10:16?

Today the "little flock" and the "other sheep" form "one flock," one organization of Jehovah's loyal witnesses maxing with a public meeting in the Coliseum on Sunday, August 26. Jesus' parable of the sheep and the goats, at Matthew 25:31-46, was discussed, and there was a departure from Christendom's traditional explanation of the parable. The "sheep" were identified with the "other sheep" of which Jesus prophesied in John 10:16. The explanatory talk, as published in the Watch Tower issue of October 15, 1923, said (on page 310, paragraph 33):

"We believe there are millions in the nominal church who are holding on because of their respect for the Lord; and they regard the nominal church as in some sense being used of the Lord. Great numbers of these do not claim to be consecrated unto the Lord, and have no heavenly hopes or aspirations. Here we believe is to be found the class designated by our Lord as the sheep. (John 10:16) Our conclusion therefore is that both the sheep and the goats of the parable claim to be Christians, forming Christendom, and both are claiming to do the works in the name of the Lord.—Matthew 7:21-23."

"And unto him shall the gathering of the people be."—Genesis 49:10.

"This is a prophetic statement relating to the work of the Christ. The time for this fulfillment is at hand. It means that the peoples of every nation, kindred and tongue, who desire and love righteousness, shall be gathered unto the Lord. Jesus said: 'And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.' (John 10:16) A sheep is a docile, peaceable and teachable animal; hence it is used to symbolize people that love peace and desire better things."

14. In its issue of January 15, 1924, what did the Watch Tower magazine have to say about the time for gathering the "other sheep"?

15. How did the Watchtower issue of August 15, 1934, show that God's kindness takes in more than saving the "little flock" to heaven?

of August 15, 1934, said in its opening paragraph (page 243):

"Jehovah's loving-kindness is extended to all who diligently seek to know and to do his will. He extends his kindness to men who believe on the Lord Jesus Christ. (John 3:16) Jesus Christ is God's provided way of life, but not all men who get life will become spirit creatures. There are other sheep which are not of the 'little flock'. (John 10:16) It is the latter, or the 'other sheep', that, after the coming of Christ Jesus to the temple for judgment, he addresses in these words: 'Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.' (Matt. 25:34)"

(See also paragraph 28 on page 248.)

<sup>16</sup> The following year, 1935, proved to be epoch-making. A meaningful convention was held at Washington, D.C., to which those desiring to be "other sheep" of the Fine Shepherd were especially invited. This indicated that now a definite move was being made to gather such "other sheep." On Friday, May 31, the talk was delivered that identified the "other sheep" (or, Jonadabs) as those who make up the "great multitude" with an earthly destiny, as foretold in Revelation 7:9-17 (AV). The surge of many of the conventioners to be of that "great multitude" was indicated by the fact that, the next day, 840 presented themselves to be baptized in water in symbol of their unqualified dedication of themselves to Jehovah God through the Fine Shepherd Jesus Christ.

A "NEW NAME" FOR THE EARTHLY PART

<sup>17</sup> Back, however, to the meaningful year of 1925. The long misunderstood vision of

16. At the Washington, D.C., convention in 1935, the "great multitude" was explained to be of what class of "sheep," and how next day did hundreds of the specially invited ones react to the information?

17. In its issue of March 1, 1925, the Watch Tower magazine explained the birth of the man child in Revelation, chapter 12, so as to apply to what outstanding event?

Revelation 12:1-17 was cleared up. The March 1, 1925, issue of the Watch Tower magazine cleared away the idea that the birth of the man-child by the "woman" in heaven pictured the birth of the papacy from an apostate religious system during the fourth century. Rather, the bringing forth of the man-child portrayed the birth of God's Messianic kingdom from his "woman," his wifelike heavenly organization. This took place in the heavens at the end of the Gentile Times, "the appointed times of the nations," in the autumn of 1914 C.E. The earthly part of Jehovah's spiritual organization was thrilled at this revelation!

<sup>18</sup> More than that, in 1925! The noteworthy fact came to the fore that the time had come for God to make a name for himself. This fact was publicized that summer at the regional convention held in Indianapolis, Indiana, U.S.A. (2 Sam. 7: 23; Isa. 64:1, 2) In line with God's purpose to take out of the nations "a people for his name," in July of 1931 the designation "Jehovah's witnesses" burst forth upon the world, when, formally and by resolution, thousands of those belonging to "this fold" of the Fine Shepherd adopted this Scriptural designation for God's dedicated, baptized people. (Isa. 43:10) That example, set at the Columbus (Ohio) convention, was followed by the congregations of those of "this fold" around the globe.

<sup>19</sup> Jesus Christ made a distinction between his sheeplike followers of "this fold" and the "other sheep." According to the English Revised Version of 1884, he said: "And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring,

18. (a) In 1925 attention was called to the fact that the time was at hand for God to do what in his own behalf? (b) In line with that, what did the congregations of those in "this fold" of the Fine Shepherd do in 1931?

19. According to the revised version readings of John 10:16, do those in "this fold" include all the "sheep" of the Fine Shepherd today?

and they shall hear my voice; and they shall become one flock, one shepherd."

—The Emphatic Diaglott of 1864; Rotherham, of 1903.

<sup>20</sup> Those of "this fold" were part of God's spiritual organization, these being "the remaining ones" of the spiritual "seed" of God's woman, spoken of in Revelation 12: 17. Since the "other sheep" do not belong to "this fold," they are not part of God's spiritual organization. They are not part of the "little flock" to which the heavenly Father gives "the kingdom." (Luke 12: 32) But in the spring of 1935 the Fine Shepherd Jesus Christ definitely began to bring these "other sheep" with an earthly destiny into recognized association with the spirit-begotten remnant of "this fold." They then became "the sheep" who were foretold in Jesus' parable of the sheep and the goats, in Matthew 25:31-46. Thus the Fine Shepherd merges the "sheep" of "this fold" with the "other sheep" to form just "one flock" under him as their "one shepherd." So the "flock" becomes one organization.

<sup>21</sup> This lays the basis for all these sheep-like ones, of whichever destiny, to work together now as one organization on earth. The separation that must eventually come between the two classes will be because the "sheep" of "this fold" will have finished their earthly course faithfully and will share in "the first resurrection," to be absorbed into the invisible heavenly organization. (Rev. 20:4, 6) Those of the "little flock" being then all gone, readjustments will have to be made among the remaining "other sheep," that these may all serve harmoniously as subjects of the Greater David, the Messianic King Jesus Christ.

—Rev. 22:16.

20. Since 1935 in particular, what "sheep" is it that the Fine Shepherd has organized on earth into a unity?

21. The remnant of "this fold" of sheeplike ones will work together with the "other sheep" as one organized "flock" until when, and then what adjustments will be made?

Are You Showing Concern?

AM I showing concern for what?" you may ask. The psalmist David answers:

"I will exalt you, O my God the King . . . All day long I will bless you . . . The glorious splendor of your dignity and the matters of your wonderful works I will make my concern."—Ps. 145:1, 2, 5.

The "matters" relating to Jehovah's wonderful work of establishing a Messianic kingdom for the blessing of all mankind will indeed bring "glorious splendor" to Jehovah's "dignity." These "matters" are far more important than those of a personal nature. So are we giving them due concern?

Appropriately, for 1981 the yeartext of Jehovah's Witnesses is: "Your loyal ones will bless you. About the glory of your kingship they will talk."—Ps. 145:10, 11.

Loyalty to God's kingship is a measure of how concerned we are about the "matters" of the Kingdom work now being done on earth.

JESUS SETS EXAMPLE

What a wonderful example of loyalty to God's kingship we have in Jehovah's first-born Son! He has always shown intense interest in and concern for God's wonderful works. In his prehuman existence he is described as a "master worker," and 'the things he was fond of were with the sons of men.' (Prov. 8:30, 31) When Jehovah's Son came to earth, he demonstrated the same concern for working with his Father, the same 'fondness for the sons of men.' After healing a crippled man on a Sabbath day, Jesus said: "My Father has kept working until now, and I keep working." —John 5:17.

Jesus expended himself untiringly, night and day, in caring for all the "matters" having to do with the kingdom of God. This proved to all sincere onlookers that he was the Son of God. When the time came for Jesus to lay down his life in death, he had the satisfaction of being able to say: "I have glorified you on the earth, having finished the work you have given me to do." (John 17:4) Yes, Jesus Christ had shown the greatest concern for his Father's Kingdom interests, being a loyal supporter and proclaimer of the Kingdom.

While Jesus was with his disciples, he taught them to have the same concern for people that he had, the same desire to work in the interests of the Kingdom. (Matt. 9:37, 38; 10:1-15) How did those early Christians show their concern? Each proved his loyalty to the Kingdom by being a personal proclaimer of the "good news." Many became full-time preachers. These could be sent to distant missionary assignments. Some of the apostles and "older men" in Jerusalem, in addition to their personal preaching activity, willingly accepted the responsibility of overseeing the whole field of preaching. (Acts chap. 15) Other "older men" accepted the oversight of local congregations. (Acts 14:23) Further, those early Christians gladly contributed to special relief funds to help their brothers in need elsewhere.—Rom. 15:26.

Yes, men and women, old and young, became "God's fellow workers," "fellow workers in the truth," "fellow workers for the kingdom of God." (1 Cor. 3:9; 3 John 8; Col. 4:11) They used every means of communication known in those days to reach the furthermost parts of their territories. They willingly gave of themselves and their resources to attain this goal.

(2 Cor. 12:15) God blessed them for the loyal concern they showed for the work of the Kingdom.

WHO TODAY SHOW CONCERN?

What a fine example Jesus and these early Christians left for us to follow in this 20th century! With the ever-growing population on this earth, the harvest today is far greater than it was in the first century. Compared to the vast field available for preaching, the "workers" are still "few" in number. So again it becomes necessary to "beg the Master of the harvest to send out workers into his harvest."—Matt. 9:37, 38.

Today, who are the loyal ones willingly responding to this urgent call to action? Jehovah's Witnesses are showing concern for these "matters" relating to Jehovah's wonderful Messianic kingdom. This is proved by their worldwide preaching of the "good news of the kingdom." (Matt. 24:14) Just as in the first century, we now find men and women, old and young, becoming "fellow workers for the kingdom of God." Their one desire before the end of this system of things arrives is to be able to say like their Master, 'We have finished the work you have given us to do.'

For over 70 years now this worldwide work of preaching has been directed from the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in Brooklyn, New York. Here and at 97 branches throughout the world there are 5,039 volunteer workers who are showing concern for Kingdom interests. How? By devoting full time to the preparing, printing and dispatching of millions upon millions of Bibles, books, booklets and magazines. These are used by over 2½ million Witnesses in their preaching and teaching work. Each of the more than 5,000 voluntary workers is given a small clothing and expense allowance as well as adequate food and shelter.

Due to the rapid expansion of the Kingdom work in many lands it has been necessary to enlarge many of the printing facilities. Some of these are completed; others are under construction. Much of the building work has been done by volunteers, thus keeping construction costs at a minimum.

In recent years, great strides have been made in methods of printing, and these new processes are being implemented in many of the branches as well as at the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses. Another benefit of this expansion and building work is that better oversight of the work of preaching in the 43,181 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses can thus be achieved. It is being done so that the printed message can be presented in the most effective and appealing manner, and also so that this all-important work can be completed before the outbreak of the "great tribulation."—Matt. 24:21.

HOW IS IT ALL POSSIBLE?

Some of our readers may be wondering how it is possible to carry on such expansion work in the face of increasing construction costs, as well as rising travel and living expenses. It is possible only because there are many thousands of Witnesses, and many others who are interested in their way of worship, who have shown "concern" during the past year. How? By their making voluntary contributions and loans to the Watch Tower Society.

In Coming Issues

- Showing Lifesaving Neighbor Love
- The Life You Can Choose
- Where Has Faith Gone?

We would now like to say to all such willing helpers, Thank you very much for your loving concern in these "matters" having to do with the work of Jehovah's kingdom.

Your open-handedness has made it possible to make rapid progress with the many building projects and the purchasing and installing of new printing equipment. It has also aided in making funds available to the amount of over $22 million dollars to help support the many thousands of full-time ministers. These include traveling overseers, missionaries and special pioneers. By sharing so liberally in this way, as well as by having a personal part in preaching the "good news," you are indeed honoring Jehovah with your valuable things.'—Prov. 3:9.

We are confident that Jehovah will move the hearts of his loyal worshipers to show as great a concern during this year. Any contributions toward Jehovah's work should be sent to the local branch office of the Watch Tower Society in your country. For those living in the United States, contributions or loans should be sent to 25 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11201. Every donation received will be acknowledged by the Society.

Great delight and satisfaction are enjoyed by those praising Jehovah and manifesting deep "concern" for matters relating to his "wonderful works." Are you showing such "concern"? We hope that you are doing so, for thus you will enjoy very satisfying spiritual blessings from Jehovah's open hand.—Ps. 145:15, 16.

A WISE PROVERB

"Anyone stupid finds no delight in discernment, except that his heart should uncover itself." (Prov. 18:2) This proverb contains an instructive lesson. A stupid person does not highly evaluate discernment. In his egotism he does not wish to have depth of understanding as to what is true and what is not.

There is one thing in which he does excel, however. That is in boldly and frequently stating his opinions, with the misplaced confidence that they are right. Thus he uncovers what he truly is. His loquacity thus serves to alert others to the sort of individual the stupid one is.
—Compare Proverbs 10:19.

QUESTIONS from READERS

- Since the word "organization" does not occur in the Bible, even in its original languages, what right do we have to say that God has an organization or to speak of God's organization?

A modern Hebrew word for "organization" is the noun ir-gun'. It is drawn from the Hebrew verb e-rag', which means "to arrange in line," as well as "to follow." Correspondingly, an organization is an arrangement of things. (For an example of this, one can refer to "Things in Which It Is Impossible for God to Lie," chapter 17, paragraph 28, in the Hebrew edition.)

The Hebrew language has another word equivalent for "organization," namely, histadruth'. This word is based upon a word that is found in the original Hebrew Scriptures. The basic or key letters in the word histadruth' are s and d and r. With these three consonants is built up the Hebrew verb sadar', which means, basically, "to arrange in order," thus producing an arrangement. The reflexive form of the verb sadar' serves as the basis for the noun histadruth', which means "organization."

Although we do not find this word in the inspired Hebrew Scriptures, we do find the related Hebrew noun seder in Job 10:22. There this noun is used in the plural number, being spelled s'darim'. The English Revised Version renders Job 10:22 as follows: "A land of thick darkness, as darkness itself; A land of the shadow of death, without any order [s'darim'], And where the light is as darkness." (Also, Authorized Version; Young's Literal Translation.) The New World Translation here reads: "To the land of obscurity like gloom, of deep shadow and disorder [lo s'darim'], where it beams no more than gloom does." (Also, Rotherham's The Emphasised Bible.) Disorder, without any order, here would mean a lack of arrangement, a disorganized state.

To this day the Jews use the word seder. A seder is part of the Jewish Mishnah. Under the word "Mishna," M'Clintock and Strong's Cyclopædia says: "The Mishnah is divided into six parts . . . , Sedarim, arrangements), which contain 62 treatises . . . and 514 chapters . . . The latter, again, are divided into numbered sections."

So in the original Hebrew Bible the word for "order" or "arrangement" is to be found. Emphasizing the needs for order and arrangement in the Christian congregation, the apostle Paul wrote to the Christians in Corinth: "For God is not a God of confusion, but of peace; as in all the churches of the saints. But let all things be done decently and in order [Hebrew translations: s'darim' n'khonim']." (1 Cor. 14:33, 40, English Revised Version; Authorized Version) This apostolic counsel of the first century applies with equal force today to all congregations of the Christian witnesses of Jehovah. The apostle Paul wrote in the common Greek of the day, and the Greek word for "organization" is or·gan'o·sis. The root for this word is er'gon, a word meaning "work" that is found repeatedly in the Christian Greek Scriptures.

All things considered in the light of the Scriptures, it is straining the point to argue that God has no organization in view of the fact that the original words meaning "organization" in ancient languages do not occur in the inspired Hebrew and Greek Scriptures. In everything God demonstrates that he has the ability to organize. What would happen if he did not organize his obedient creatures? As a structure an organization is a body of intelligent persons who are brought together and arranged so as to work peacefully and harmoniously together in carrying out a common purpose, the purpose of the organizer.

In line with this fact, God is repeatedly called "Jehovah of armies." An army is an organized body of troops. So, in support of the truth that God has an organization, we read the following exhortation addressed to his organization: "Bless Jehovah, O you angels of his, mighty in power, carrying out his word, by listening to the voice of his word. Bless Jehovah, all you armies of his, you ministers of his, doing his will. Bless Jehovah, all you his works, in all places of his domination." (Ps. 103:20-22) Jehovah had an organization of heavenly spirit creatures before ever he created our earth and put man upon it.

Against various backgrounds God uses figures of speech to refer to his organization. The first case of this is in Genesis 3:15, where God speaks of his celestial spiritual organization as "the woman," in opposition to "the serpent," a figure of speech denoting Satan the Devil. (Compare Genesis 3:14; Revelation 12:9.) This rebel against God has imitated him and built up an organization against God's organization, God's figurative "woman."
